INTRODUCTION

Background

The primary purpose of this publication is to provide annual data on covered employment, total and taxable wages, premiums due, and average premium rates. Primary users include public and private researchers, governments, educational institutions, and labor organizations.

The publication contains county summaries of employment and wages by industry for firms covered by unemployment insurance during the reported period. A state summary is also included. The statistics were compiled from quarterly contribution and wage reports submitted to the Tennessee Department of Employment Security by employers subject to the Tennessee Employment Security Law.

As in past publications, editing was necessary in order to comply with federal and state regulations regarding disclosure of individual firm data. These regulations state that "data will not be disclosed for any data record (firm), or for levels summarized from individual data records (such as summarized industry level data), that have fewer than three reporting units." If there are three or more reporting units, data are withheld if one unit accounts for 80% or more of employment.

Description of Tables and Report Layout

Shown in the first three columns of the tables are the number of reporting units (employers), the annual average employment, and the total wages paid in each industry during the calendar year. The total wage figure was divided by the annual average employment to obtain the annual average wage in column four. The annual average wage was divided by 52 to derive the average weekly wage in column five. The final three columns consist of taxable wages, total premiums due, and the average premium rate.

State totals for all industries are presented in the first table, "Statewide", followed by county breakdowns. County "000," the first county presented, is composed of data from firms operating in Tennessee but having no established address or having units in more than one county.

Multiunit employers file a single report covering all of their establishments in the state. The data for such establishments are presented either in the county with the largest employment or in county "000," depending on how the employer chooses to report. Additional breakdowns of multiestablishment employers into appropriate counties are added each year.

Addendum

Note to users of Tennessee Covered Employment and Wages by Industry, Statewide and by County 1989

To meet the need for more precise wage data in manufacturing, we have begun development of a new confidentiality screening program. This new computer program will enable us to include additional firms in the manufacturing total without violating confidentiality requirements. The inclusion of these firms at the total manufacturing level rather than in an "all other" category will more accurately reflect average annual wages in manufacturing.

Although it will be mid 1991 before the entire 1990 Covered Employment and Wages publication can be published using the revised screening format, we have compiled 1989 data for the manufacturing division of each Tennessee county. The attached data sheet should simulate closely the data that would be available using the new program.

INTRODUCTION

Background

The primary purpose of this publication is to provide annual data on covered employment, total and taxable wages, premiums due, and average premium rates. Primary users include public and private researchers, governments, educational institutions, and labor organizations.

The publication contains county summaries of employment and wages by industry for firms covered by unemployment insurance during the reported period. A state summary is also included. The statistics were compiled from quarterly contribution and wage reports submitted to the Tennessee Department of Employment Security by employers subject to the Tennessee Employment Security Law.

As in past publications, editing was necessary in order to comply with federal and state regulations regarding disclosure of individual firm data. These regulations state that "data will not be disclosed for any data record (firm), or for levels summarized from individual data records (such as summarized industry level data), that have fewer than three reporting units." If there are three or more reporting units, data are withheld if one unit accounts for 80% or more of employment.

Description of Tables and Report Layout

Shown in the first three columns of the tables are the number of reporting units (employers), the annual average employment, and the total wages paid in each industry during the calendar year. The total wage figure was divided by the annual average employment to obtain the annual average wage in column four. The annual average wage was divided by 52 to derive the average weekly wage in column five. The final three columns consist of taxable wages, total premiums due, and the average premium rate.

State totals for all industries are presented in the first table, "Statewide", followed by county breakdowns. County "000," the first county presented, is composed of data from firms operating in Tennessee but having no established address or having units in more than one county.

Multiunit employers file a single report covering all of their establishments in the state. The data for such establishments are presented either in the county with the largest employment or in county "000," depending on how the employer chooses to report. Additional breakdowns of multiestablishment employers into appropriate counties are added each year.

Addendum

Note to users of Covered Employment and Wages by Industry, Statewide and by County 1990

To meet the need for more precise wage data in manufacturing, we have begun development of a new confidentiality screening program. This new computer program will enable us to include additional firms in the manufacturing total without violating confidentiality requirements. The inclusion of these firms at the total manufacturing level rather than in an "all other" category will more accurately reflect average annual wages in manufacturing.

Although it will be mid 1992 before the entire Covered Employment and Wages publication can be published using the revised screening format, we have compiled 1990 data for the manufacturing division of each Tennessee county. The data on pages v and vi should simulate closely the data that would be available using the new program.
